

Prague, 12th November 2009

Dear colleagues,

As it has been recently announced in the latest Czech CFA Society's newsletters, Thomson Reuters has become the strategic partner with the Czech CFA Society. Our partnership will be launched by the upcoming Charter Awarding Ceremony 2009 on 26th November. The cooperation will bring various benefits to the Czech CFA Society members and we would like to strongly encourage you to take advantage of this unique opportunity:

1/ Sponsorship of the Charter Awarding Ceremony 2009 & the following Christmas Party – please come to listen to a presentation on 'Geopolitics and its Impact on Investment Decisions' which has been very successfully presented around Europe and to have a complimentary drink at the following informal Christmas Party, for details see the attached invitation.

2/ Two month free of charge access to selected Thomson Reuters products and services for new and current Czech CFA Society members. These products and services include the following:

DataStream- the world's market leading time series database providing global encyclopedic coverage across multi assets, which is available through a range of delivery platforms (via desktop interface and Excel add-in or a dedicated data download FTP site), offering easy-to-use, focused and flexible tools to analyze, manipulate and display the data.

ThomsonOne.com - Investment Banking – modular web-based service with a foundation solution, enabling users to get in-depth information at the company level, and several modules for industry and market analysis. Company Fundamental, Deals, Private Equity, Ownership data, Credit Analysis, Estimates and Research. Additionally, you can subscribe to relevant module from ThomsonOne.com with unique and valuable content for the Investment Banking Department.
